About the Conference

OakBridge Publishing and Nani Palkhivala Arbitration Centre are proud to announce a full day conference on:

Repositioning India for Arbitration: Envisioning an Empowered Nation

The conference will provide a robust platform to business leaders, corporate general counsels, arbitration experts and policy makers to discuss critical topics and issues with a broader objective to make India the preferred Seat and Venue for International Arbitration. Eminent leaders and experts from diverse fields will discuss the role of Arbitration as an enabler for Business and Economic Development and the need for a supportive ecosystem with their learnings and experiences.

The conference aims to make and leverage Arbitration as one of India's key Competitive Advantages by generating practical recommendations for policy intervention and relevant legislative Amendments. The conference will also help the policy makers in their efforts to promote arbitration and strengthen its enforcement in the country, with a broader view to promote India as the hub for International Commercial Arbitration.

Who should attend

Arbitration Experts, Business Leaders, Corporate General Counsels, Law Firm Partners and Representatives from the Government and Judiciary.

About Nani Palkhivala Arbitration Centre (NPAC)

NPAC was founded in the year 2005 by the Palkhivala Foundation in the fond memory of the legend, the late Nani Palkhivala, one of India's most respected jurists. Incorporated as a company under Section 25 of the Companies Act, 1956, NPAC has its Centres in Chennai and Delhi. NPAC is the only Arbitration forum in South India to have been formally recognized by the Madras High Court. The Centre which is modelled on the lines of the International Arbitration Centres across the globe, aims at providing world class arbitration facilities, by facilitating both Ad hoc and Institutional Arbitration, assisted by a panel of eminent Arbitrators. The Centre offers quick, efficient and cost-effective arbitration services.
